Nature shaped by Nature

VOICE OF WIND is a landscape of light and movement where nature becomes the creator of its own work.

In this piece, the wind acts as an invisible author: it draws, displaces, and transforms. There is no imposed narrative or human gesture shaping it. The freedom of the air molds the environment and awakens an unpredictable dance of luminous particles. The piece invites viewers to pause, to listen to the whisper of the wind, and to witness how it becomes light. A suspended atmosphere in time, where each gust opens up a new visual possibility.

Environmental microphones capture the sound presence of the wind and translate it into parameters such as speed, direction, gusts, or turbulence. This information generates a generative visualization of thousands of luminous particles in motion—a new visual possibility.

ABOUT

Ricardo Morcillo explores the intersection between the physical and the digital through the language of light. His creations invite audiences to immerse themselves in atmospheric experiences that seek to awaken collective awareness and emotional connection. He holds a degree in Lighting Design from the Hogeschool van Amsterdam and in Architecture from the School of Architecture of Alicante.

Alongside his artistic practice, he actively promotes light culture through lectures, academic teaching, and contributions to specialized publications. He is a Senior Professional Member of the Spanish Lighting Designers' Association (APDI). His installations have been featured in international festivals such as Noor Riyadh (Saudi Arabia), Bright Brussels (Belgium), and LuzMadrid (Spain), where his work engages audiences through a dialogue between light, space, and public participation.
